Create a timeline of your life below. Mark events/times when you felt really close to God higher above the line, and times when you felt distant from God below the line.

______________________________________________________________________

When have you learned something significant from or about God? What was happening at that time?

What do you do or where do you go to feel close to God? Why?

How have your past experiences prepared you to something later in your life that you didn’t expect or plan for?
